

And to Donald Trump:

May God damn your soul to eternal hell you giant lying sack of shit.

(Keep sending your messages Donald. Keep sending me your very worst, old man. I will be sure to hold the message of your eternal damnation for anyone that cares to retrieve it. You are a lost soul that will not and cannot ever be redeemed. You did this to yourself. You obviously care so much about my opinions that you spend every moment of every day sending a team of people trying to get me to care about your idiotic evil plan for oppressing others. I do not care about you, Donald. I care about the peace and dignity of my own home.)
